Claim Status

Claims 1, 2, 4-9, 12 and 14-18 are pending; claims 3, 10, 11 and 13 having been canceled. Claims 1, 2, 4-9, 12 and 14-18 are rejected as detailed below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 2, 6, 12 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US Pat No 6,321,236 issued to Zollinger et al (hereafter Zollinger).

Claims 1, 6, 12 and 15:

Zollinger discloses:

associating a first code with a first characteristic of a product and a second code with a second characteristic of the same product [parts database, col 7, lines 34-40, price information, col 1, line 63]

storing a first characteristic value associated with the first characteristic and a second characteristic value associated with the second characteristic [parts database, col 7, lines 34-40, price information, col 1, line 63]

associating an identity of a first entity with at least one of the first or second codes including setting one or more update values indicating whether the first entity is authorized to receive changes relating to the first or second characteristic values associated with the first or second code [profile database 56, Fig 1, col 8, lines 15-30, col 12, lines 15-30, col 4, lines 5-15], changing at least one of the characteristic values to produce a changed characteristic value [col 6, lines 30-45], retrieving the identity of the first entity based on the changed characteristic value [differencing engine 30, Fig 1, col 6, lines 60-67]

determining whether the first entity is authorized to be sent the changed characteristic value based on one of the one or more distinct update values [profile database 56, Fig 1, col 8, lines 15-30, col 12, lines 15-30, col 4, lines 5-15]

sending the changed characteristic value to the first entity based on the determination [profile database 56, Fig 1, col 8, lines 15-30, col 12, lines 15-30, col 4, lines 5-15]

a processor, data and instructions executable by the processor [server synchronizer 46, Fig 1]

Claim 2:

Zollinger discloses associating the identity of a second entity with the same code as that associated with the first entity, retrieving the identity of the second entity based on the code associated with the characteristic having the changed value, and sending the changed value to the second entity profile database 56, Fig 1, col 8, lines 15-30, col 12, lines 15-30, col 4, lines 5-15]

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 4, 5, 7-9, 14 and 16-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zollinger in view of US Pat No 5,913,210 issued to Call (hereafter Call).

Claim 4:

Zollinger discloses the elements of claim 1 as noted above but does not disclose sending the changed characteristic value by email. Call discloses sending the changed characteristic value by email [col 4, lines 44-52 and col 7, lines 7-10]. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Zollinger to include sending the changed characteristic value by email as taught by Call for the purpose of using an electronic means of communication.

Claim 5:

The combination of Zollinger and Call discloses the elements of claims 1 and 4 as noted above and furthermore, discloses retrieving the electronic address of the first entity [Call, col 4, lines 10-26]

Claim 7:

The combination of Zollinger and Call discloses the elements of claim 6 as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the modified information is transmitted over a network and the first entity is a computer on the network [Call, Fig 1, items 120 and 103]

Claim 8:

The combination of Zollinger and Call discloses the elements of claims 6 and 7 as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the network is the Internet [Call, col 2, lines 28-33]

Claim 9:

The combination of Zollinger and Call discloses the elements of claim 6 as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the product is a service [Call, col 2, lines 33-47]

Claim 14:

The combination of Zollinger and Call discloses the elements of claim 12 as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the means for sending the changed value comprises means for sending the value by email [Call, col 7, lines 7-30].

Claim 16:

The combination of Zollinger and Call discloses the elements of claim 15 as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the system comprises a server connected to a network and the first entity comprises another server on the network [Call, col 3, line 60 through col 4, line 10]

Claim 17:

The combination of Zollinger and Call discloses the elements of claim 15 as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the system comprises a server connected to a network, the data is maintained by a seller, and the first entity is a buyer of the product from the seller [Call, Fig 1 and abstract].

Claim 18:

The combination of Zollinger and Call discloses the elements of claim 15 as noted above and furthermore, discloses wherein the product is a service [Call, col 2, lines 33-47]

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 8/18/2005 have been fully considered but they are now moot based on above new art rejection which was necessitated by applicant's amending of the claims.
